

Kingsland Primary School is one of the highest performers in England, winning national awards for Children's Attainment - top 20%

Kingsland Primary School has been recognised nationally by receiving a prestigious award for their outstanding results last year. The award is based on 2019 data provided by the Department for Education and Ofsted, and for the school's commitment to collaboration, analysed by SSAT, the Schools, Students and Teachers network.

Kingsland Primary School was found to be among the best performing primary schools in the country, receiving one SSAT Educational Outcomes award. Kingsland Primary School has enabled pupils' attainment at the 'expected and 'higher' standard at Key Stage 2 in Reading, Writing and Maths to be in the top 20% of all schools nationally.

The SSAT Educational Outcomes database compares all state-funded schools in England and the highest performing schools in a range of key measures are awarded SSAT Educational Outcomes Awards. Kingsland Primary School will have the opportunity to be presented with their award during the summer term at the Primary Network Conference attended by winners from across the region.

Laura Burton, Head of the SSAT Primary Network said:

"This award rightfully recognises the commitment and dedication Kingsland Primary School demonstrates to enable their pupils to achieve and succeed. Congratulations to all members of the school community."

Sue Williamson, Chief Executive of SSAT said:

"Congratulations to Kingsland Primary School on winning an SSAT Educational Outcomes Award. SSAT is committed to recognising the successes of schools in improving the lives of children. We know that this award is due to the hard work of everyone in the school, and the leadership of the headteacher and governors. Thank you for all that you do."
